The screenshot shows the GSA website for Building Maintenance and Operations. At the top, it says "An official website of the United States government" and "U.S. General Services Administration". There is a search bar and a "Per Diem Lookup" button. The main navigation menu includes "Buying & Selling", "Real Estate", "Policy & Regulations", "Small Business", "Travel", "Shared Services", "Technology", and "About Us". The breadcrumb trail is "Home / Buying & Selling / Purchasing Programs / Federal Strategic Sourcing Initiative / Building Maintenance & Operations". The main heading is "Building Maintenance and Operations". Below this, there is a section for "Federal Strategic Sourcing Initiative" with a sub-section for "Building Maintenance & Operations". A text box states: "GSA's BMO vehicle is the first governmentwide solution to receive a best-in-class designation by meeting five rigorous category management performance criteria as defined by Office of Management and Budget guidance. Read more about this designation and the evaluation criteria on the GSA Blog." Below this, there is a paragraph: "Building Maintenance and Operations (BMO) strategic sourcing solution is a comprehensive and flexible solution covering all high-demand BMO services. It is an open market, multiple-award, indefinite delivery, indefinite quantity (MA-IDIQ), governmentwide contract vehicle supporting the strategic sourcing initiative to reduce costs and drive efficient purchasing by federal agencies." Another paragraph states: "There are both unrestricted and small business set aside programs available in the BMO vehicle to allow for large and small business participation. The BMO Small Business (SB) has additional socio-economic categories to help agencies meet their goals." A third paragraph states: "The BMO vehicle is a 10-year contract with one 5-year base and one 5-year option at the parent contract level. Agencies seeking longer than a 5-year task order must request a deviation from their own agency. BMO allows for the following contract types at the task-order level:". On the right side, there is a "Contacts" section with "BMO Team" (816-926-6750), "National Customer Service Center" (800-488-3111), and another number (816-926-6952). There is a "BEST in Class" seal and a link to "BMO Flyer [PDF - 259 KB]". At the bottom right, there is a "E.TOOLS" link.
